REACH Air Medical Services and CALSTAR

What Are These Services?

These organizations provide emergency air (helicopter) transportation to our local coastal area and other locations, based on medical need, to the nearest appropriate medical facility, as determined by local emergency medical services (EMS) policies. Emergency air medical transportation must be requested by a physician or Emergency Medical Professional (EMP).

REACH Air Medical Services and CALSTAR have merged and are now participating members of the AirMedCare Network, an alliance of affiliated air ambulance providers. REACH and CALSTAR are continuing to provide the air transport services for our local area.

What Does a Membership in AirMedCare Network provide?

Membership in this organization may assist in covering the financial gap between what your health insurance covers and what you would be billed in the event of an emergency air ambulance transport. Contact AirMedCare Network directly to determine the terms and conditions of membership.

Please note: These are not health insurance programs. Check with your health insurance provider to determine your coverage for emergency air medical transport.
